CRIME OF HORROR RESULT OF TRUST IN QUEER INVENTOR

Attempts of Eccentric to Establish Magnetic Contact With Spiritual World End in Murder of Child, Wounding of Two, and Suicide of Supposed Harmless Imbecile

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (AP).—As strange a story—in its Macabre tragedy—as the nineteenth century horror tale of "Frankenstein" was disclosed today by police investigating the killing of an eleven-year-old girl, and the critical wounding of her seven-year-old sister and their nursemaid.

For years, Robert Perez, forty, had lived in almost complete blindness, over the east side of the city. The neighbors knew him only as "Robert," and, although they regarded him as eccentric, they believed him harmless.

Perez had amused the children of the neighborhood with his constant tinkering with inventions, with which he planned to establish magnetic contact with the spiritual world.

A FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

Among those who regarded Perez as a friendly neighbor was Lupe Mesa, a grammar school student, who had come to Perez's home on numerous occasions to look at the strange contraptions the man had constructed, his hands guided by almost sightless eyes.

Yesterday, for some unexplained reason, police reported, Perez ran berserk with a revolver. He shot Lupe to death, wounded her younger sister, Concha, in the abdomen, and then shot the nursemaid, Mrs. Adella Rincon, forty-eight, in the leg. Police said he then ended his own life.

NO APPARENT REASONS

Police said there were no apparent reasons for the killing of the young girl, but they were unable to explain why the man, forty, from his waist up, was covered by coils of copper wire, although they led nowhere.

Beneath the dead girl's body, police found a contraption of tubular copper, which officers said might have been part of Perez's experiment to establish a magnetic contact with the spiritual world.

KING PRESIDES AT CEREMONY

Inaugurates Huge New Library Building for University of Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, England, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—Cambridge University's new twenty-four-story library building was inaugurated today, with a ceremony presided over by the King.

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the university, received the Royal party and delivered a brief address of welcome, which was followed by an address in which the King said:

"I am glad to be with you and to express my appreciation of all that has been done to provide this wonderful home for the library of Cambridge University. The vision, faith and enterprise of those who conceived this great idea have been abundantly justified. In the long history of your university there have been many notable gifts, but the traditions of the past have been equalled or excelled by the generosity and public spirit manifested in our own day."

Taking note of the fact that money had been contributed toward construction of the $2,500,000 edifice from the United States, the King said:

"The magnificent gift from the International Education Board reminds us, not only that there are special ties of friendship and kinship between this country and the United States, but also that education knows no national frontiers."

Making Ready For Trip to Stratosphere

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (AP).—With favorable weather reports coming in hourly, and with inflation of their huge balloons already under way, Prof. and Mrs. Jean Piccard tonight made their last-minute preparations for an ascent into the stratosphere before dawn on Tuesday.

Inflation of the 600,000-cubic-foot gas bag was started at 11:20 p.m. 3,000 cubic feet of gas being released into the bag at that time. It will require at least four hours to inflate the balloon.

VITAMIN "C" ISOLATED

DARMSTADT, Germany, Oct. 22 (AP).—The Merck chemical and therapeutic firm today announced that it had isolated, after long research, vitamin "C" in free form, so that it can be injected.

Depicted in the spume crest of this wave breaking over the rocks near the Oak Bay golf links, may be seen the face and arm of Storm God beckoning the turbulent sea on to essay damage. This remarkable photograph was taken at the height of Sunday's storm by R. J. Jameson, an ardent and successful amateur photographer.

Cities of Northwest Repairing Extensive Damage Left by Gale

Store Fronts, Trees, Chimneys, Light and Communication Lines Blown Down

FIREMEN HAVE MANY CALLS IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—Four bodies have been cast up by the angry waters of the Gulf of Georgia and tributary streams, churned to fury by a terrific gale which swept the Southwest British Columbia Mainland and Vancouver Island, Sunday, inflicting widespread damage, estimated to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Police believe, however, that only one of the deaths was due to the storm. The others had been drowned previously, but their bodies were apparently brought to the surface by the storm.

SECOND TYPHOON TAKES LIFE TOLL

MANILA, Oct. 22 (AP).—Eleven were dead tonight and one reported missing following the second severe typhoon to strike this island in a week. Casualties from the first storm totaled about eighty.

Provinces lying northeastward from Manila, Laguna, Camarines Sur and Tayabas—were the sufferers this time. A summary of property damage in the three districts, compiled by The Manila Bulletin, showed a total of $1,200,000.

COVERS WIDE AREA

According to the latest check-up by Provincial Police radio, the storm covered an area from Nelson to the province's western shore, and practically no damage at any of the inland points was reported. Warning signals were displayed from weather masts at all coast ports, and shipping was advised of the approaching storm.

BLAME REVOLUTION FOR EXPLOSION BY WHICH MANY DIE

MADRID, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—Twenty-seven soldiers were killed today and many more seriously wounded in a dynamite explosion linked with the recent revolutionary strike throughout Spain. The explosion occurred in the Langres mining district in the Province of Asturias. No official version of the tragedy was given.

STORMS SWEEP ACROSS ISLAND

Howling gales out of the southeast and southwest whipped across the Pacific Ocean, and lashed the waters of the Strait into a fury and sent huge white-crested rollers crashing against the rugged shores of the West Coast.

Fishing smacks and small craft scurried for safety of home ports at the first sign of the big blow, which lasted from 9 o'clock in the morning until late at night with varying intensity. Damage to shipping was slight and was confined to small pleasure boats, which were dragged from their moorings and cast onto the shore.

FINDS MOTHER DEAD IN HOME

Four Small Children Cold and Hungry in House With Body

NANAIMO, Oct. 22.—Describing it as the most pitiful case he had ever seen, Constable Chris Jacklin told of answering a call to a residence two miles north of Nanaimo, on Sunday evening. There he found the mother of four children lying dead, and the children hungry, cold and miserable. The mother, Mrs. Mary Markusch, twenty-eight, had apparently been dead for twenty-four hours. The children, the oldest of whom was four, had tried to feed themselves with some rolled oats and a bottle of ketchup. The father is employed in a logging camp near Alberni.

MRS. W. PERKINS BULL WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

General regret will be felt at the news of the passing at Toronto, Sunday morning, of Mrs. Maria Brennan Bull, wife of W. Perkins Bull, K.C., a charming woman who had often visited Victoria.

Mrs. Bull will be kindly remembered by many veterans of the late war, as the benevolent matron of the W. Perkins Bull Hospital in London, established by her husband for Canadian wounded.

PUT ON FREE LIST

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP).—A Treasury order, effective on Wednesday, places nickel powder, nickel flake and nickel hydroxide on the free customs list. The import advisory duties committee said they considered these commodities should be exempt from duty as nickel itself is already on the free list.

SIDNEY MILL IS DAMAGED

Fire, attributed to spontaneous combustion, broke out in the sawdust pit of the Sidney Lumber Company mill at Sidney, yesterday afternoon, burned the large sawdust bin and damaged the roof of the boiler room. Total damage was estimated at more than $5,000. The mill is valued at about $250,000 and is partially covered by insurance. Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association is trustee for the plant.

As the main building of the mill has been closed since last May, no one was present at the outbreak of the blaze. Smoke from the fire was first noticed by the day watchman, Freeman King, at 12:40 p.m. He rushed to the eighty-foot sawdust bin and attacked the blaze single-handed, but it soon got out of control.

NEW CABINET APPROVED BY THE REGENCY

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Oct. 22 (AP).—A new cabinet, headed by Nikola Uzunovich as premier, was approved by the Jugoslav regency early today.

General Zifkovich was reappointed War Minister, to the disappointment of many Croats.

The new regime includes Dr. Milan Stankovic and M. Marinkovich, both of whom were formerly Prime Ministers in the late King Alexander's dictatorial Government. All members of the new Cabinet were added as ministers without portfolio.

WASHINGTON HAS CHEAPER LIQUOR

OLYMPIA, Wash., Oct. 22.—Liquor prices, called the lowest in the country with reductions of existing prices of up to 30 per cent on many brands, confront patrons of Washington State liquor stores today, marking the second time that price cuts have been made since state liquor control became effective last March. In addition, the state now introduces Scotch whiskey under its own labels, and promises big shortly.

The sweeping price reductions send the price of liquors down near pre-prohibition levels, board members said, and should deal another blow at illegal competition.

CABINET RESIGNS TO AID REORGANIZATION

LISBON, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—The Portuguese Cabinet of Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar resigned today. Sole purpose of the resignation, Government circles said, was to permit the Premier to reorganize the Cabinet as he saw fit.

American Bankers Harsh in Criticism Of Recovery Policy

Vigorously Deny Charge of Refusal to Co-operate With United States Government — Accusation of Unfairness Levelled at President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP).—Direct and frequently harsh criticism of United States Government recovery policies, today, dominated the opening sessions of the annual convention of the American Bankers Association.

Speakers at the meeting, considered one of the most significant in the association's history, moreover, were ready with a vigorous denial of the often-repeated charge that the banks have refused to co-operate with the government and have retarded recovery by unduly restricting loans.

MAKE ACCUSATIONS

At President Roosevelt, one speaker leveled an accusation of unfairness in his recent comparison of British and United States bank-

The tumult of the crowd rose as the plane came into sight, then shot down the finishing line marked out on a straight part of the race course with great white strips enclosing the word "Flemington" (the airport's name).

After crossing the finish line, the plane flew on to Laverton Air-drome and made a perfect landing in the thick rain.

REPRESENTATIONS READY

The latter two presented Scott and Black each with a bottle of beer and a pack of sandwiches. Meanwhile, far behind the pace-setting Englishmen, who had stopped

EXTRADITION IS TO BE REFUSED

Alleged Plot Leaders Will Not Be Handed Over by Italy

TURIN, Italy, Oct. 22 (AP).—Well-informed circles said tonight Italy will refuse extradition of Dr. Anton Pavlich and Egon Kramnik, wanted in France as alleged leaders of the Terrorist band accused of plotting the Marseille assassinations.

Pavlich, alleged chief of the Croat revolutionary band, and Kramnik, named as his "delegue," were arrested here last week at the request of French authorities, whose questioning of three suspects held in France brought their names into the case as the alleged chief conspirators against King Alexander of Jugoslavia.

"I have never been in Marseille in my life," Turin police quoted Pavlich as saying. "I gave no orders to anybody in connection with the Marseille affair."

ARRESTED AT DIEPPE

PARIS, Oct. 22 (CP-Havas).—Andre Artukovich was arrested today by French police as he stepped from a trans-channel steamer at Dieppe.

Suspected of complicity in the machinations of the band of assassins believed by police to have been responsible for the Marseille murders, Artukovich was held on the simple charge of not having his papers in order.

SEARCH STARTED FOR YOUNG GIRL

Disappears in Alley on Way to School and Kidnapping Is Indicated

HUNTINGTON, W.Va., Oct. 22 (AP).—A widespread hunt was started tonight for Dorothy Marie Handshaw, thirteen-year-old daughter of a prominent furniture company executive, believed to have been kidnapped as she entered an alley on her way to school in Huntington, at 8:15 a.m. today.

The girl's father, George W. Handshaw, is president of the Huntington Wholesale Furniture Company. The family lives in the exclusive South Side residential section.

Police were informed the child had entered the alley while going to a junior high school this morning and had not since been seen.

Bad Weather Chief Cause of Failure of Bedaux's Expedition

Leader Has High Praise for Spirit and Cheerful Loyalty of His Hired Men in Face of Extraordinary Hardship

EDMONTON, Oct. 22 (CP).—Failure of his expedition to make a 1,100-mile crossing of the Rocky Mountains in Northern British Columbia was attributed, today, by Charles E. Bedaux to three main causes.

In copyright dispatches to The Edmonton Journal, from Pouce Coupe, B.C., Bedaux said the weather was the first cause, while the second was that the engineers who designed the five tractors left in the wilderness had not known what "gumbo" was. The third was the hoof-rot which broke out among the expedition's horses, forcing back the party when it was almost within reach of Telegraph Creek, end of the projected trip.

Tonight the party is resting at Pouce Coupe, where it will entrain tomorrow, for Edmonton.

CAUGHT IN FLOOD

Dangers and difficulties were revealed by Bedaux. He said that at one time, a small party, headed by E. Geake, "had been caught in a flood of the Muskwa, when the river rose eight feet in a few hours. Geake was caught on a little knoll, with maddened horses struggling to reach safety near him.

"He had a terrible time, but was saved from death by his men, after he had been in the water half a day. He collapsed when it was all over."

After the tractors had been lost or abandoned, Bedaux declared, "we had enough horses, but not enough horse strength, since the animals were exhausted by their work in the mountains and their struggles with the floods."

"... From the top of the Rockies to Whitehorse we experienced terrible going. It took us five days to accomplish sixty-five miles, during which we were forced to ford eight streams, all swollen by incessant rains."

On September 27, he said, hoof rot had spread and it was decided to turn around. Only eighty of the 130 horses were fit to load.

Mr. Bedaux said there was little game around Sifton Pass, which was used to cross the high point of the Rockies.

"... It seems a deserted country, but there are innumerable wolves. The remains of one horse were devoured by these animals. We saw no grizzlies. Although the wolves are savage and apparently have decimated game animals, there was no danger of attack on our party."

WAGE NO MATTER
"Let me say one word for the spirit of our party. I could never have believed that men would do so much, would risk their lives time and again, for the wage of $4 a day. The wage did not really matter."

"A spirit grew up among the party and each would try to outdo the other for the good of the whole."

Mr. Bedaux revealed, in an interview with an Edmonton Journal writer, at Pouce Coupe, that he might again try to make the trip. "It won't be next year," he said, "but the year after that. Well, possibly next time we'll pick a better season."

night, and cleared all debris away from the boilers. Shortly before noon yesterday, Mr. Wilkinson inspected the sawdust bin on his way home for lunch. Later, Mr. King, in making his rounds of the plant, also looked into the bin, but saw no smoke or indications of fire. Thirty minutes later, when in another part of the grounds, the watchman noticed smoke arising from the cyclones or sawdust conveyor tubes on the roof over the sawdust bin. Fifty miles of sawdust were destroyed by the blaze.

FIREMEN HAVE MANY CALLS IN VANCOUVER

Continued from Page 1 New Westminster, drowned yesterday, while hunting ducks, when his punt was swamped by a sudden squall, was found washed ashore at the junction of the Nicomekl and Serpentine Rivers, eighteen miles south of New Westminster.

The body of William T. Pearce, sixty, missing since October 11, when he disappeared from the Vancouver General Hospital, clad only in a nightgown, was washed up on the banks of False Creek. A body tentatively identified as that of John Craig, fifty-five, missing since he left in a sailboat two weeks ago for Bowen Island, fifteen miles away, was found near Lorne Beach.

The fourth body, unidentified, was washed ashore at Ladner.

CRIPPLES SERVICES
In its fury, the storm, which reached a peak gust velocity of fifty miles per hour, crippled telephone and telegraph communication, blocked roads and interrupted city street car and interurban service.

Store fronts, illuminated signs, fences, chimneys, trees and shutters crashed down under the force of the gale, endangering the lives of pedestrians. No serious injuries were reported, although several persons had narrow escapes. One man was badly burned by a falling high-voltage wire, but was revived by the inhalator squad.

At Hastings Park, a section of the Horse Show Building, two feet wide by 400 feet long, was tipped off and dropped on the lawn. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

MANY TREES UPROOTED
At least 3,000 trees were uprooted in beautiful Stanley Park, but, although several buildings and equipment in the park narrowly escaped being crushed under falling trees, all escape and interior damage through the park were blocked and several autos were trapped.

WANT INTEREST RATES LOWERED

Finance Committee of Council to Consider Letter From Manager of Bank

A letter from E. W. McMullen, manager of the Douglas and Yates Streets branch of the Bank of Montreal, relative to the city's application for a lowering of interest rates on current civic borrowings, was referred to the finance committee for its consideration at last night's meeting of the council.

Mr. McMullen said that, while press reports had indicated there would be a reduction in the interest on savings accounts from 2.5 to 2 per cent, he had received no official intimation from the head office, and knew nothing about the future policy on interest rates on bank loans.

However, he informed the council that he would advise them as soon as a policy had been set.

When interest rates on savings accounts were reduced from 3 to 2.5 per cent, a half per cent reduction was granted the city in the interest rates on its borrowings from the bank.

SIDNEY MILL IS DAMAGED

Continued from Page 1 responded. The engine soon developed motor trouble, however, and an alarm was telephoned to the Victoria Fire Department.

Rapid work on the part of firemen, volunteers and Provincial Police prevented the fire, fanned by a southeast wind, from spreading. It was confined to the sawdust pit and the roof of the adjoining boiler house. By 2:30 o'clock the fire was well under control, and the firemen left the plant at 4:30 o'clock.

According to reports at a late hour last night, the boilers were not damaged, and the generator unit and electric power plant, close by, were also saved.

PREPARING PLANT
No fire was in the boilers at the time of the outbreak, Mr. Wilkinson, chief engineer, explained, as he had been draining all water from the boilers and pipes in the morning, preparing the plant for the winter lay-over. Although a fire was laid in the boilers on Saturday, Mr. Wilkinson extinguished it the same

Formation of a permanent May 24 celebration committee at an early date was decided upon at last night's meeting of the City Council, on a motion sponsored by Alderman John A. Worthington and Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter.

The sponsors pointed out that the Victoria Day programme had always been regarded in Victoria as the one having particular significance to this city.

Only by staging more ambitious programmes than in recent years could the city hope to capture the support of the citizens and attract outside visitors here, they stated.

Fire Sweeps Sawdust Bin

Sidney Mill sawdust bin was gutted by flames yesterday afternoon. Above is a picture taken at the height of the fire, showing a portion of the damage and the volumes of smoke that hampered the work of the firemen. Besides taking toll of the eighty-foot bin, flames damaged the roof of the adjacent boiler house. Fire was attributed to spontaneous combustion.

As the saw sank, it took the tug with it. Only the funnel, mast and upper portion of the tug remained above the surface of the Fraser River. No person was injured in the accident.

The gale struck New Westminster with cyclonic force. The roof was torn from the rear of C. F. Chamberlyne's home and carried through the air across four adjoining lots. The huge burner of the Westminster Shook Mills, Ltd., collapsed under the force of the storm.

As Fire Rages Inside Sidney Mill

Above is shown the east end of the main unit of Sidney mill, and a portion of the crowd looking on as firemen battled to subdue the flames which raged in the big sawdust bin, yesterday afternoon. Prompt action by firemen, volunteers and Provincial Police kept the fire from spreading to other parts of the plant. Damage done to the bin and roof of the adjacent boiler house was estimated at more than $5,000. The main unit of the mill has not been in operation since last May, and no one was in the building at the outbreak of the blaze.

CELEBRATION BODY URGED

City Council to Establish Permanent Committee for May 24 Programme

Formation of a permanent May 24 celebration committee at an early date was decided upon at last night's meeting of the City Council, on a motion sponsored by Alderman John A. Worthington and Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter.

The sponsors pointed out that the Victoria Day programme had always been regarded in Victoria as the one having particular significance to this city.

Only by staging more ambitious programmes than in recent years could the city hope to capture the support of the citizens and attract outside visitors here, they stated.

STREET CAR TAKES FIRE

The chief trouble in the city occurred Sunday afternoon when all wires, including the street trolley, came down at Fourth Avenue and Blenheim Street. The latter set fire to a street car, but the blaze was extinguished before serious damage occurred.

Sunday was one of the busiest days in the history of the fire department here. Seventy-nine alarms were turned in during the day, the majority of these being roof and chimney fires. Some were emergency calls resulting from fallen poles and wires. Seventy-six calls were recorded within four hours.

The barometer dropped to 29 during the storm, the lowest point since December, 1923, when it touched 28.9. E. B. Shearman, Dominion meteorologist, reported. The gale averaged twenty-eight miles an hour, the higher speeds being touched in gusts.

HIGH FENCE WRECKED
Considerable damage was suffered at Athletic Park, where the wind blew down 325 feet of the high fence. It also sent a tall pole, carrying a cluster of lights used for night sports events, across the roof of the Vancouver Athletic Club Gymnasium.

Players engaged in badminton games were showered with glass and wood as three holes were torn in the roof of the building, but none were hurt. Damage to the park was estimated at $800.

The tug Flyer sank at the wharf of Gilley Bros., Ltd., near New Westminster, when a load of gravel suddenly shifted on a scow to which it was lashed.

TAKES TUG TO BOTTOM
As the scow sank, it took the tug with it. Only the funnel, mast and upper portion of the tug remained above the surface of the Fraser River. No person was injured in the accident.

The gale struck New Westminster with cyclonic force. The roof was torn from the rear of C. F. Chamberlyne's home and carried through the air across four adjoining lots. The huge burner of the Westminster Shook Mills, Ltd., collapsed under the force of the storm.

GRAIN EXPORTS CREATE RECORD

Shipments Through Port of Vancouver for Week Reach New Peak

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22.—Grain shipments through the Port of Vancouver for the week ending October 18 passed all previous records for the current export season, when well over 1,500,000 bushels of this golden wealth were delivered through the spouts to waiting vessels. Practically all the grain loaded during the past week was destined to United Kingdom and Continental ports.

The seasonal export total of grain shipped to world ports so far this year is over 2,000,000 bushels ahead of the corresponding period of last year.

Actual exports of grain for the past week amounted to 1,663,796 bushels, compared to 962,447 bushels the week previous. Total exports so far this season amount to 9,984,062 bushels, against 8,993,206 bushels at this time in 1933.

Exports to United Kingdom: Continent during the past week aggregated 1,510,697 bushels, against 977,898 bushels for the previous seven days, while shipments to Oriental ports were 153,099 bushels, compared to 145,490 bushels, showing a slight gain.

WILL TRY TO FIND THE QUEEN'S TOMB

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP).—The London Mail says Howard Carter, co-discoverer with the late Earl of Carnarvon of Tutankhamen's tomb, will leave London for Egypt, October 25, in an attempt to find the tomb of Tutankhamen's wife, Queen Ankhesen-Amun.

The queen's burial place is believed to be near her husband's.

Find Child's Body Under the Floor

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., Oct. 22 (CP).—Police tonight were investigating the finding of the unidentified body of a child beneath the floor of a farmhouse near McMahon, Sask., twenty miles southeast of here. Unconfirmed reports said new occupants of the house had found the body.

EXECUTIVE IS GIVEN SUPPORT

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, However, Opposes Action Taken on Relief Matter

Action of the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, with regard to its opposition to the new unemployment relief policy instituted by the Provincial and Federal Governments, was endorsed by the City Council, last night, with one dissenting voice.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar voted against endorsement, taking the stand that the union should have been more emphatic, and shown its determination to throw the responsibility of relief upon the shoulders of the Federal and Provincial Governments. He said that he was sympathetic toward the unemployed, and while not wishing to impose any more hardship on them, nevertheless, he had to protect the taxpayer from any further burden.

The home owner already was being driven to the wall, and the city found itself in the position where property owners on relief were paying taxes to keep others on relief.

MAYOR'S REPORT
Mayor Leeming explained that the reason why the executive had not endorsed the city's motion that municipalities refuse to pay relief allowances unless the Government returned to its former policy was on account of Vancouver.

"Vancouver is in favor of the principle, but is afraid to adopt it in practice as serious riots may result, and dire consequences be the outcome," the mayor said.

He explained that the city comptroller and relief officers of Vancouver and Victoria are to wait upon the provincial relief officer with a view to getting a more clear-cut explanation of the new policy, while the executive of the union has requested the Provincial Cabinet to grant it a conference in order to discuss relief matters.

if they can only give a dollar or fifty cents. Every contribution counts, and we need the whole-hearted co-operation of everyone if we are to make this drive a success. After all, some consideration should be given to those less fortunate than the contributors, or those well able to contribute, and this campaign affords an opportunity for everyone to help make life just a little bit easier for those who face despair daily," the manager said.

WORKER'S ATTITUDE

A young business woman who visited campaign headquarters yesterday said, as she placed on the table a $5 bill, "It's up to those of us who have jobs to give a thought to those who haven't."

In the daily round, the common task, of attending to one's own particular duties, people sometimes are apt to forget that there are many who have not the solace of work, and the assurance of wages wherewith to provide for their own and the needs of those dear to them.

There is nothing so utterly demoralizing—so soul-shattering—as prolonged unemployment. It is, unfortunately, not within the ability of the Friendly Help Welfare Association of Greater Victoria to create employment, but what these associations are endeavoring to do is to make the lot of those who, through no fault of their own, are idle, a little less bitter. Give a thought, then, to your fellow-citizens whose outlook is dreary and hopeless and experience the joy that comes of cheerful giving.

98 OUT OF 100 WOMEN REPORT BENEFIT

Feels well... Always happy

PALE AND WEAK until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound

"I was weak and pale," says Mrs. Louis Fortin, 361 Boulevard du Havre, Valleyfield, Quebec. "I could hardly do my work until I started taking your medicine. I am now on my fourth bottle. I feel perfectly well and always happy, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Take this medicine for periodic pain, before and after childbirth, at Change of Life and whenever you are nervous and rundown.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Used by women for over 60 years

Death came yesterday to Mrs. Margaret Ann Robinson, aged sixty-nine years, of Lake Road, Saanich, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Born in Senon, Nottingham, England, Mrs. Robinson came to Canada when she was nine years old. Many years of her life were spent in Ontario and the Prairie Provinces. Sixteen years ago she moved with her family to Nanaimo, then to Courtenay, and finally, in 1925, she came to Saanich.

She is survived by her husband, Edwin Robinson, one son, Edwin A. Saanich, and one sister, Mrs. Laura Scott, in Ontario.

Rev. F. W. McKinnon will officiate at funeral services tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. The remains will be laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

MRS. A. J. LAWSON IS LAID AT REST

A large congregation of sympathizing friends was present at the funeral of Mrs. Ann Janet Lawson, held yesterday afternoon, at Christ Church Cathedral. Rev. C. D. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, officiated, assisted by Very Rev. C. S. Quinlan. The only hymn sung was "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." A profusion of beautiful floral tributes were received.

The following acted as pallbearers: E. Browne, C. Williams, A. R. Wolfenden, J. E. Wilson, E. W. Izard and B. S. Helsternman. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

SAYS ACTION BETRAYAL OF THEIR TRUST

Inquiry Officer Censures
Buffalo Directors of Teck-
Hughes Gold Mines

OTHERS ABSOLVED OF
PRICE MANIPULATION

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (C.P.)—Betrayal of trust by two Buffalo directors of Teck-Hughes Gold Mines, Limited, is charged by J. M. Godfrey, Ontario securities commissioner, who tonight made known his findings from an inquiry into charges that announcement of the firm's dividend reduction had been withheld to permit short selling by "insiders."

Action of the two men, Dr. Conrad Wetlaufer and W. W. Reilly, in selling part of their holdings when adverse rumors concerning the company were at their height, was responsible for the "utter demoralization of the market and rapidly falling prices."

Criticism of Dr. D. L. H. Forbes, president and general manager, is made by the commissioner for what is described as his failure to reveal information concerning the company to shareholders, but "in fairness to Dr. Forbes, it must be said that the question of giving information to shareholders is an extremely difficult one."

NO SERIOUS REFLECTION

The commissioner also emphasizes the fact that Forbes did not sell any of his stock, and declares "it should not be taken that what has been said in connection with the furnishing of information casts any serious reflection on Dr. Forbes as chief executive of the company."

Dr. Forbes, the commissioner found, as well as retaining his shares, "was not connected with any manipulation of the stock, and he did not secretly disclose any information which he had as a director and officer of the company."

The chairman finding, the report says, applied to Albert W. Johnston, chairman of the board; George C. Miller, vice-president; John F. Tash, director; John P. Thompson, director; and Kintzing P. Emmens, treasurer.

SEVERELY CENSURED

The action, however, of Dr. Wetlaufer and Reilly, "in using inside information to save themselves from loss at the expense of the other directors, cannot be too severely censured," the commissioner declared.

"These men had a strong moral obligation to the other shareholders; they were in a position of trust, and the betrayal of that trust, as, to say the least, shocking to the people of decent business instincts."

"The only excuse Reilly offered was that after the shareholders' meeting was over, and before they took their Buffalo train for Montreal, he informed him and Wetlaufer that Dr. Forbes had prepared a statement regarding the condition of the mine, which was to appear in The Northern Miner on September 13. Both he and Wetlaufer said they resented very much this action on the part of Dr. Forbes."

They had decided at the directors' meeting to postpone consideration of the dividend until the seventh. Captain Babington is survived by one sister, Mrs. R. B. Badiou, and a niece, both of Brentwood.

Possessed of a genial disposition and given to whole-hearted hospitality, he was popular with a large circle of friends who will extend sympathy to Mrs. Babington and her daughter in their bereavement.

The remains are resting at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

EXPECT ACTION FROM CONGRESS

Full Indorsement of Codes by Industry Needed in United States

Whatever shortcomings there may be in the administration of the National Recovery Act, the people of the United States have not lost faith in the efforts of Government to overcome the problems of unemployment and the problems facing industry, but the country, as a whole, expects action from the next session of Congress, and the country has every reason to believe action will come.

That was the opinion expressed by Woodruff Randolph, secretary of the International Typographical Union, who arrived in Victoria, yesterday, from San Francisco with his wife and two daughters on a holiday tour from their home in Indianapolis.

CODES EFFECTIVE
Mr. Randolph, in an informal interview on his arrival in the capital city, stated he was particularly interested in the problems of Canada and was anxious to know what had been done in the matter of codification of industry in the Dominion. Codes, he said, had been generally effective in the United States insofar as they were satisfactory to industry. He believed, however, that further legislation was necessary to insure full endorsement of the code system.

On his arrival here, Mr. Randolph was met by James Davidson, president of the Victoria Typographical Union; L. Colton, vice-president, and James Petrie, secretary. Mr. Randolph and his family will spend today in Victoria and will leave tonight for the Mainland, en route home.

SURPLUS IS ANTICIPATED

City's Receipts From Tax Accounts and Other Sources Show Increase

A substantial surplus is anticipated by the city at the close of this year if collections continue to be made at the present rate. Helping in the council's effort to end the year with a surplus, the city school board will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon to discuss further economies that may be made so as to bring the expenditures within the budget for the year.

Up to last Saturday, current collection of taxes amounted to $1,257,724, while receipts from arrears totaled $200,214. Both these figures are gains over last year, and it is expected that the city will end this year ahead of the estimated receipts.

Other sources of revenue are expected to show an increase of approximately $27,000. This will be accounted for chiefly by a gain of $16,500 in receipts from water accounts.

STORMS SWEEP ACROSS ISLAND

gales well in advance. No major trouble to coast-wise ships had been reported up to a late hour last night. Victoria felt the full force of the storm, which was the worst of the Fall season so far, and meteorological stations gauged the wind velocity at from fifty miles an hour to gusts at seventy-four miles. The heaviest of the two gales was from the southwest during the late afternoon. The weather was mild and the barometer touched the lowest point since 1914, receding to 28.92.

SUMMARY OF DAMAGE

A summary of the reported damage at Victoria follows:
At Oak Bay a twenty-two-foot pleasure launch, owned by Walter G. Haswell, was destroyed.

A small boat, owned by A. B. Crump, was washed onto the rocks on the Oak Bay front.

At Cadboro Bay a small craft, owned by Roy Denny, broke anchor, and was washed ashore, but only slightly damaged. Mr. Denny was aboard at the time.

Telephone and light poles were blown down in various parts of the city, Victoria West and the northern

Waves Breaking Over the Sea Wall

This photograph was taken during the height of the gale on Sunday morning, and shows a huge wave breaking over the sea wall at Ross Bay. The waves were so heavy at times that city officials ordered the highway closed until the storm subsided. Several automobiles were stalled when they were driven into the flying spray.

ENGINEER HAD MANY FRIENDS

K. M. Chadwick, Chestnut St., Succumbs Suddenly—Funeral Wednesday

With tragic suddenness, the death occurred, on Sunday, of Kenneth Murray Chadwick, well known for many years as a prominent civil engineer of the community. Mr. Chadwick succumbed following an operation at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, to which he was taken in response to an emergency call, having been, apparently, in his usual good health on Saturday.

A native of Leeds, England, Mr. Chadwick was the youngest son of the late J. G. Chadwick. He was fifty-six years of age. He came to Canada in 1907, and lived in Penicton for about five years before he and his family came to Victoria, in 1914, to make their permanent home here. Although of a quiet disposition, he made many friends and identified himself with many activities in the city.

For many years Mr. Chadwick was secretary of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Institute of Engineers; he was secretary also of the local centre of the Rosticrucian Society; a member of the Men's Guild of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay; a member of the Radio Club, in which he took a great interest, and, since the revival of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada, eight or nine years ago, he had been secretary or member of the executive almost continuously. Just a fortnight ago he was at the Alpine Club hut at the Lake of the Seven Hills, with some of the other members, and took an active part in completing some details of the new building.

In Victoria he is survived by his widow and one daughter, Muriel, living at the family residence, 1827 Chestnut Street. Three brothers and a sister live in England.

The funeral cortege will leave Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Wednesday afternoon, at 1:45 o'clock, proceeding to St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, where Canon A. E. del. Nunns will conduct services at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

PROVED MENACE ON PUBLIC WAYS

Jail Term Imposed Upon Driver Who Was Intoxicated While Driving Car

According to the evidence produced in the city police court yesterday morning, Danny Barreau, on Friday, became a menace to the public safety in his operation of an automobile on the public streets. He will have to spend a term in jail in consequence.

Admitting that he operated a car while intoxicated, the accused was sentenced to two weeks in jail. Magistrate Jay pointing out that the act provided for nothing less than a jail sentence for such an offence. While Constable F. R. Woolsey was attempting to overtake the accused in his erratic course, the latter collided with the car of W. McIntosh, parked near the corner of Pembroke and Quadra Streets. Evidence of $35 worth of damage being done to this car was given in court.

A second charge which had been laid by Constable John Blackstock shortly before the accused was arrested for driving while intoxicated was disposed of also. At this time the officer said he was drunk. He was charged with driving an automobile in which the foot brake was of very little use, and the hand brake was useless, so that he did not at all times have his car under control. He pleaded guilty to this charge also. A fine of $10 was assessed against the accused, or in default, a five-day term in jail to follow the previous sentence.

Now!.. new aid in PREVENTING Colds

Remarkable New Formula is Especially Designed for Nose and Upper Throat where most colds start

AFTER years of research on the problem of colds, Vick Chemists have developed a remarkable new preparation—Vicks Vapo-nol. This exclusive Vicks formula is especially designed to aid the functions which Nature has provided—in the nose—to prevent colds, or to throw them off in their early stages. Used at the very first feeling of nasal irritation—just a few drops up each nostril—Vapo-nol helps to avoid many colds altogether.

Relieves Head Colds at Every Stage

If irritation has reached the stuffy, sneezy stage—Nature's usual warning that a cold is developing—prompt use of Vapo-nol helps to throw it off in the early stages.

Where irritation has led to a clogged-up nose (a stuffy head cold or nasal catarrh) Vapo-nol penetrates deep into the nasal passages—reduces swollen membranes—clears away clogging mucus—brings welcome relief.

Vapo-nol is real medication—not mere "oil drops"—yet is absolutely safe for children and adults. It has been clinically tested by physicians—approved by specialists.

Easy to use, anytime or place—at home or at work. Keep a bottle always handy.

Introduces Vicks Colds-Control Plan

This new aid in preventing colds is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub (modern external treatment for colds). Together with certain simple rules of health, these two preparations form the new Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Records of thousands of clinical tests—made over a period of two years, and under medical supervision—indicate that Vicks Plan greatly reduced the number, duration and dangers of colds. (Full details of the Plan in each package of Vicks VapoRub and Vicks Vapo-nol.)

FRUIT PACKAGES MUST BE LEGAL

Magistrate Imposes Fine on Fred Smith for Violation of the Dominion Regulations

In the city police court yesterday, Magistrate Jay disposed of the charge laid against Fred Smith of having sold fruit without having lawful authority to do so from the inspector appointed under the Dominion regulations. The accused was found guilty and fined $25, the minimum amount set by the act, with an additional $5 for costs.

In deciding the case, the magistrate said that if he could have done so, he would have imposed a lower fine than that set under the regulations. Other charges related to this one were withdrawn by R. D. Harvey, counsel for the department.

The court called attention to the regulations, saying that he was convinced the inspector had the power to forbid the sale of any fruit that he had reason to believe was not complying with the act. Inspector R. Randall had seen nine packages of apples which were not packed in compliance with the regulations, and the placing of the notice on one of the packages, in view of the fact that the whole nine were so situated as to form one group, conveyed the intention that all nine of these packages should be included.

BROUGHT BY INSPECTOR
The prosecution was brought by Inspector Randall in the course of his duties to see that the regulations are observed in the district. Under these regulations, anyone who packs, ships or sells, or has in his possession, intended for sale, is held responsible for any violation of the regulations pertaining to the containers of and the marking of them.

Under the regulations, "all fruit must be in standard container when intended for sale." The regulations give the dimensions of the containers for different kinds of fruit and specifies as to marking of them.

both at Charlville and Port Darwin to make adjustments to the faulty motors, were the Dutchmen, K. D. Parmenter and J. Moll, who were in second place.

They had not yet reached Charlville, thus being at least five hours behind Scott and Black.

Apparently in third place were Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, the Americans, who had not yet reached the Australian mainland. They took off from Kowang, across the Timor Sea, early today after a flight from Singapore.

SET TERRIFIC PACE
Scott and Black set such a fast pace during the earlier stages of the race that Australians were confident only a complete motor failure or crash would deprive them of the coveted prize money.

However, their backer, A. O. Edwards, of London, was so agitated over the outcome of the race that he hardly could believe they had crossed the line.

When reassured, he said fervently: "Thank heaven!"

ARTS EXHIBIT IS ATTRACTIVE

Crafts Special Feature of Annual Exhibition Now at Belmont House

Evidence of much activity in handicraft in all kinds is shown every year at the annual exhibition of the Island Arts and Crafts Society. This year's exhibition, which opened at noon yesterday at Belmont House, bears out the tradition in even better form than usual. It will be a source of genuine joy to every lover of beautiful needlework, carving, metal-work, hand-wrought jewelry, designs for crochets and wallpapers, weaving, and leather-work in various forms, to see the exquisite type of product that is coming out of Victoria's homes and studios.

The exhibition is to be open daily from mid-day until 6 o'clock, with the exception of Tuesday and Thursday, when the rooms will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening, in order to give everyone an opportunity to visit the rooms. Eight or nine rooms in all are filled with crafts and pictures. Including water-colors, oils, black and white, tempera, and pastels, there are about 150 pictures, representing the majority of the painter members of the society, as well as a number of new exhibitors.

The attendance on the opening day was highly gratifying.

THE CRAFTS
Crafts entirely fill two rooms and overflow into one or two of the others. Among the conspicuously fine work in the crafts section are Mrs. G. P. Napier's beautiful hooked rugs, one designed by Mrs. H. F. Bartholomew measuring eight by four feet, which took 115 hours to make; another of authentic Persian design, measuring nine by six feet; S. Rutter's delicately-carved mantle and chest, the former using oak-leaf and dogwood motifs; E. Parker's carved oak chair; the handsome three-panel Jacobean screen by Miss A. Pooley; the needlepoint chair lent by Lady Barnard; the tapestry by Mrs. Raymond Kershaw, which contains 1,200 stitches; Margaret Izard's hand-tooled calf purses and a charming coat design for machine crocheting, incorporating local wild flowers such as the snake-weed, the peacock and the wild lily.

Miss Ravenhill's Indian bags, using authentic Indian designs of every imaginable kind; two or three hand-quilted bedspreads, one by Mrs. Bullock-Webster using the windmill design, and another covered all over with rosettes in designs; a whole tableful of beautiful, soft, hand-woven scarves and other articles from the Island Weavers; a case of hand-wrought jewelry designed and executed by Miss E. Lister, hand-painted designs in by Miss O. Pearson; hand-made sweaters and socks.

There are also some very fine examples of metal-work, including fire screens and wall lights made by Mr. Simister. "Glass" plates and celophane purses are shown by Miss G. Tucker; raffia work bags by Miss G. Woodward; a table of Christmas novelties by Mrs. Blowers; and several vessels of most realistic artificial flowers.

THE PICTURES
In the water-color rooms are pictures by artists whose names are very familiar to exhibition patrons: T. Bamford, T. S. Gore, Miss Palmer, D. S. Cameron, Mrs. F. Bullen, Miss Maude Lettice, and Mrs. Young. Mrs. Weaver Bridgman, Josephine Crease, Llewellyn Jones (Edmonton), Gladys Woodward, Mrs. W. F. Loveland, Mrs. R. Willis, Russell Ross, Miss Gibson (Vernon), Mrs. Sheppard, M. C. Hill, and others.

In the oils section some of these names recur, and there are works also by Arthur Checkley, Emily Carr, Iva Unthoff, Terese Todd, Will Menelaus, John de Lisle Parker, and A. Adamson. The black-and-white room has some interesting work also, the most notable contribution being Connors's "D.F.P." and M. Bullock-Webster have entered needlework pictures.

Pottery has been given a room in itself, practically all of the members of the pottery club being represented.

Afternoon tea will be served daily, and will be in charge of Mrs. Ronald and Miss Woodward.

Council to Seek Equalization of B.C. Freight Rate

APPLICATION will be made to the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa for a removal of the differential on the export freight rate between Victoria and Mainland terminal ports on fruit shipped from the Okanagan Valley. The City Council will make the application, having endorsed the report of the industrial committee to this effect.

The request is being made on behalf of the Victoria Cold Storage & Terminal Warehouse, Ltd., which claims it is unable to develop the Okanagan trade because of the differential rate. The rate to Vancouver from the Okanagan is thirty-four and a half cents per 100 pounds, while to Victoria is thirty-eight cents.

The exhibition is to be open daily from mid-day until 6 o'clock, with the exception of Tuesday and Thursday, when the rooms will remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening, in order to give everyone an opportunity to visit the rooms. Scott and Black flew from London to Darwin in two days, four hours and thirty-three minutes. The old record, set by Charles T. O. Uim and a crew from Australia, last year, was six days, nineteen hours and thirty-three minutes.

Sir MacPherson Robertson, wealthy manufacturer, who donated the prizes, and the Lord Mayor of Melbourne, were the first to grasp the hands of the flyers.

MECHANICAL TROUBLE
When Scott and Black reached Charlville, 787 miles short of their goal, they were leading the second-place Dutchmen by 1,300 miles, but they faced the last-minute hurdle on the final leg in a continuation of the mechanical trouble which had beset them toward the end of the days.

The racecourse adjoining the landing place was black with crowds.

The rooftops of buildings were crowded with other thousands.

The enthusiasm of Australians for the winning flyers was heightened by the fact that the nearly six-foot Scott was well known here, having served three years as a pilot of the Queensland Airways.

GROUND IN INDIA
In winning in a British plane (De Havilland), the Scott-Black team also defeated Great Britain's premier air couple, the Moltons, who had a similar machine, but lost any chance of winning by being forced to repair their ship at Allahabad, India, where they still were grounded early today, still hopeful they might be able to continue in the handicap division.

Scott and Black made one false start from Charlville and returned, but finally got away again. Hasty adjustments made preparatory to the first take-off apparently were not adequate.

NEARLY VOICELESS
The British record-breakers were happy, but exhausted and voiceless, at Charlville. In whispers they explained they had shouted to each other through the long night to banish sleep.

Parmenter and Moll, prior to leaving Darwin, said they were enjoying their trip thoroughly. In addition to the 1,300 miles, they had a cargo of 2,000 letters and three passengers aboard. The passengers were Thea Rasche, German aviatrix; Peter Gillespie, of The Hague, and R. G. Domine, of Brazil.

Beyond Bagdad, in the handicap division, the 1,100-mile flight was a number of planes. J. D. Hewitt and C. E. Kay, New Zealand entry, took off from Bagdad at 7:22 a.m. Monday.

LEAVE BAGDAD
Lieutenant M. Hansen, flying for Denmark, left Bagdad at 9:44 a.m. Another British pair, Squadron Leader Stodden and K. G. Stodden, were right behind, heading eastward at 10:06 a.m. C. J. Melrose, Australian flyer, departed in the wake of the others at 12:05 p.m.

The American team of John Wright and John Poindeux took off from Aleppo at 11 a.m. Monday.

C. G. Davies and Lieut.-Commander C. N. Hill were at Nicolas, Cyprus.

Flight-Lieut. G. Shaw, like Davies and Hill, a British flyer, was at Athens, leaving at 10:55 a.m.

DEATH TAKES TOLL
Death took its first toll in the long race, Monday, when Flying Officer H. J. C. Clouston, of the Baines, co-pilot, was burned to death as their airplane crashed in flames over the Appennines near Rome, Italy.

Five other entries who had taken off from Mildenhall Aerodrome, near London, at dawn Saturday, had dropped out, most of them on account of engine trouble.

Captain Neville Stack and S. L. Turner, British flyers, and one of the team abandoning the contest, nevertheless were continuing towards Australia, in their own words, as "amateurs." Bad weather and engine trouble near the start caused them to drop out at Marseille, France. They took off from Rome early Monday.

MEET FLAMING DEATH
ROME, Oct. 22 (CP via Reuters).—Two British entrants in the London-Melbourne Air Derby, their venture ridden by misfortunes since the start, crashed to flaming death in the Neapolitan Appennines today. Flying Officer H. D. Gilman and J. Y. C. Baines, co-pilot, Sussex men flying the British Jersey Fox machine, fell from a height of 4,500 feet in the hilly neighborhood not long after taking off from Rome today, far behind the leaders in the race. Their plane burst into flames as it touched the ground. Passengers of the district, Palazzo San Gervasio, were nearby and saw the crash, but they were powerless to extricate the doomed aviators, as were military police, hastily summoned. The bodies were charred to cinders.

The toast was proposed by A. B. Ford.

Church Marks Anniversary
Congregation of Fairfield United Holds Dinner—Dr. Henry Gives Lecture
The eighth anniversary of the opening of the present Fairfield United Church edifice was observed by members of the congregation last night. Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry, church pastor, gave an illustrated address on "Modern London," while immediately prior to the talk, a dinner took place.

On Sunday, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, of First United Church, Very Rev. Cecil S. Quinlan, rector of Christ Church Cathedral, and Rev. G. A. Reynolds, of First Baptist Church, officiated as guest speakers at various services throughout the day. May Day Leeming and Andrew McGavin, accompanied by their wives, attended church, Sunday evening, as representatives of the City Council.

COMMEMORATIVE DINNER
At the commemorative dinner last night, arranged by the women's auxiliary, under the presidency of Mrs. George Percy and convened by Mrs. E. Thomson, some 200 persons were present. Mayor Leeming spoke briefly, as did Dr. Wilson and Mr. Reynolds.

For one hour and a half hours, Dr. Henry held his audience enthralled as he conjured up pictures of London, both old and new. He traced the history of this historic city from earliest times to the present.

"London holds its imperial position by virtue of a special combination of geographical advantages," declared Dr. Henry. It was one of the two largest cities in the world, and was still the largest sea-trading port on the globe.

VARIED INTEREST
"London presents also the most remarkable assemblage of objects of great and varied interest to be found anywhere. Neither Rome nor Paris can match it in combined historical, intellectual and commercial importance," the speaker continued.

London had been well described as a "province covered with houses," he felt. The district now known as Greater London is a nearly circular area, thirty miles in diameter. Dr. Henry declared London had a population of nearly eight millions of persons, living in a million houses erected on 7,000 miles of street.

OLD CITY REVIEWED
The old city was bounded by two tributaries on the North side of the Thames River and had a bounded area of approximately one square mile. Although this district had a night population of just 14,000 persons, some 400,000 residents of the great city spent their working hours within this small confine.

There is no place which secures from its residents a larger share of genuine and loyal attachment, or in which a larger amount of easy-going nature can be looked for," Dr. Henry averred. "As J. M. Barrie once said: 'London is the only city in the world where you can eat a penny bun in the street without having people turn around and look at you.'" he concluded.

Miss Isabel Crawford contributed two vocal solos during the evening.

Beating Girls at Their Own Game
SASKATOON, Oct. 22 (CP).—True pioneers are Len and Cecil Robinson, who have enrolled for the household science course at the University of Saskatchewan. Never before has man invaded woman's precincts at the university. Cecil, competing with seventy girls, took second in a pear-preserving contest.

Unnamed Hill Is Climbed

An unnamed hill, one of the rockiest ever attacked by the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada, was climbed on Saturday by eight members of the section under C. L. Harrison's guidance. Showers were encountered and everyone was thoroughly drenched before the expedition was over, but the outing was, nevertheless, declared very successful. The next expedition will be on Saturday, November 3, and will be to Lone Tree Hill. The cars will leave Victoria at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Hearing something prowling about downstairs, the timid husband bravely seized a candle and proceeded to investigate, whilst his even more timid wife buried her head under the bedclothes. Suddenly her husband came upon a burglar, who covered him with a revolver. "Oh, don't take any notice of me," protested the timid husband. "I'm only walking in my sleep."

tonight, although it was feared a number who were out in the storm and not officially reported, were marooned by rising water or overturned boats.

Lincoln Sinks Ship

Those injured suffered chiefly from the falling bricks and street signs, glass torn from show windows and automobile windshields, live wires lying in the streets and the like.

Lincoln Sinks Ship

Dramatic rescues were reported. The fisheries tender Ketchikan saved six salmon-trap men at Boundary Bay, when their traps were blown out into the water. Almee Foyen, nineteen-year-old Seattle girl, saved Eno Berg when his boat overturned while he was trying to rescue two other men on Lake Washington.

Lincoln Sinks Ship

N. N. Straloy, boatowner manager, of Seattle, towed Mr. and Mrs. William Smith to safety when he saw their rowboat bobbing perilously in Elliott Bay. Dozens more were rescued by tugboats and fishing craft.

Lincoln Sinks Ship

Striking with fury shortly after daybreak, Sunday morning, the storm swept over this region all day, not subsiding until after nightfall. An eighty-three-mile-an-hour velocity was recorded at the Tacoma Municipal Airport; a velocity of seventy miles was recorded by Government instruments at Boeing Field, here, and a sixty-mile velocity at the downtown weather station.

Lincoln Sinks Ship

Grays Harbor suffered particularly from the storm, being cut off by high water, from the east. Tidewater was backed into city streets and homes.

Harry Pollard Urges Victorians to Boost for This City and Vancouver Island

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

Harry Pollard, official photographer for the Canadian Pacific Railway, after taking the members of the Gyro Club, yesterday, for an imaginary trip around the world, visiting many of the most attractive parts, told his hearers that they should thank God that they lived in Canada.

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

"After years and years of travel, I can say, not only should you sing 'O Canada,' but you should thank God that you live in Canada."

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

"Victoria is one of the finest places in the world today," he declared. There was too great a tendency to let Jack to the task of presenting the claims of the city to the world. He called upon all to preach Victoria and Vancouver Island.

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

Starting from New York on the imaginary trip around the world, Mr. Pollard, in turn, gave vivid pictures of some of the countries.

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

PRIDE FOR MUSSOLINI
The speaker paid a glowing tribute to the work that was being done in Italy by Mussolini, who had transformed that country. It was said that he was an autocrat. This was true, but that country needed an autocrat. Mussolini was one of the strongest characters in Europe today, Mr. Pollard asserted.

CANADIANS HAVE GREAT HERITAGE

The speaker had good to say of Japan. He felt that that country was often criticized unjustly for what it was doing. Japan must expand just as Great Britain did. As long as they colonized under proper conditions, one could not well find fault with the Japanese. One thing could be said of the country, and that was that all were working together for Japan, he concluded.

Fighting Fatigue
Often a Losing Battle

Fatigue comes to tell you
That your nerve force is running low.
When greatly exhausted
You become too tired to sleep, too tired to eat,
Too tired to enjoy yourself, too tired to care.
Your stomach is too tired to digest food.
The functions of the vital organs are slowed up.
You become down hearted and depressed.
The natural outcome is nervous prostration
And long weeks or months are required for recovery.
Why not check this process of exhaustion,
Right now, by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food
To make the blood rich and red.
And to nourish the nervous system
Back to health and vigour.
This restorative treatment is dependable
Because it supplies to Nature
The very ingredients from which new blood is created.

CHAPTER XIV

William smoothed his wife's hair, and said nothing. He was a quiet, unassuming man, but he adored her. She got up presently and removed the plates and brought berries and cake for their dessert. And it was when she was eating her last berry that a little cry floated down from above.

"It's baby," Dilly said, "and she wants her bottle, and there's the table to clear and the dishes to wash, and everything. And at 3 o'clock, Giles is coming over."

"Giles?"

"Yes, all this has been just a prelude, William. Giles is coming over and he is bringing the girl."

"What for?"

"Oh, he's told her about the light, and she wants to go up and look at it, and I'm to have tea with them, and I should have been thinking about it instead of sitting here and talking with you."

"I hope," William remarked as he rose, "that she won't be as silly as most of them are about the tower stairs."

Dilly laughed. "Oh, it's nuts to you, William, their being frightened and begging you to help them."

"It isn't nuts," he retorted, "and you know it."

"Perhaps I do," she agreed, "and now it will help a lot if you will take the baby her bottle."

The dishes were washed, Dilly changed her dress, and the baby was spick and span when Giles' boat came up to the landing. The tide was out, and William, helping Joan to bridge the distance between the boat and the pier and lifting her with strong arms, was aware of her youth and slenderness. She was nothing but a child, he decided, this heiress to millions, and she was very simply dressed, more simply even than Dilly, in a white flannel skirt and a pale violet sweater.

Dilly served tea from a gay, painted table, set out on the sands and shaded by a big orange umbrella. The waves spread themselves in a thin green wash over the hard beach, and Dilly's small Susan, barefooted and ecstatic, splashed about in the warm water, or dug hopefully for clams with an infinitesimal tin shovel.

Dilly's prying old hens, coming up to share the tea, were a source of much amusement. "William says they ought to lay Plymouth rocks instead of eggs," Dilly stated, "to be in keeping with the environment. I don't know what I'd do without them. They are such good company."

Joan was finding it all delightful. Here was Dilly, pleasant, pretty, unaffected, and her William, sturdy and rather silent, but at his ease, and there on the sands was that fluttering bit of loveliness.

"How happy you must be," she said to her hostess.

"Oh, well now and then we get a bit fed up on solitude, don't we, William?" But Dilly wouldn't admit it. The look which flashed between husband and wife made Joan's heart stand still. How sure they seemed, and safe.

When they had finished their tea, William took Giles and Joan to see the light. As they came into the stone tower, it was cool and dark in contrast to the bright sunlight outside. Going up and up was a spiral staircase, an iron structure that turned until as one followed its height the brain grew dizzy.

"Going up is nothing to coming down," William said as they began the ascent; "but I'll lead the way, and Giles can bring up the rear, and that will give you confidence."

But Joan was not afraid. It was great fun, she declared. She talked to Giles over her shoulder, and the thick walls gave back her words in hollow echoing sounds.

Giles, with his hand on the rail just back of hers, hardly heard what she said. It was, he felt, nothing short of a miracle to have her here and to know he had her friendship. For he had it. He exulted in the thought.

If the weeks which had followed their talk at the Wing and Wave, Joan had come often to the shop. First to tell him what she thought of the little book, and after that to look at the things he had to show her. She had stopped in as a rule during her morning walks when Drew was on the links. If Giles had a customer she would sit contentedly in a corner, reading quietly and waiting until he could talk to her.

Giles was half afraid to think what those talks were beginning to mean to him. . . . There had grown up between them a relationship which was on his part protective, on hers confiding. She treated him as if he were an elder brother. She discussed with him her affairs, frankly, and without self-consciousness. She had told him she was to be married. And to whom. And he had said: "You danced with him in the woods?" "How did you know?" "I could see it in your eyes when you spoke of him."

She had drawn a quick breath: "Sometimes it seems so wonderful I can't quite believe it."

"Because you love him?"

"Because he loves me."

"Why is that wonderful?"

"Oh . . . he's seen so much of the world . . ."

"Haven't you seen the world?"

"No . . . I have never traveled."

He had wondered a little at that; did not seem to fit in with her position as her aunt's heiress. But one morning when Scripps was out they had gone down into the shoe shop, and there had been a conversation which had enlightened him with regard to her circumstances.

Old Peter had welcomed them, and Joan had been told his history. Of how Scripps had found him one morning, crippled on the rocks, with the rain beating on him, half dead.

"Perhaps I do," she agreed, "and now it will help a lot if you will take the baby her bottle."

The dishes were washed, Dilly changed her dress, and the baby was spick and span when Giles' boat came up to the landing. ## RADIO SHOW OPENS HERE

Local Dealers Sponsor Week to Illustrate Rapid Strides in Reception

Radio fans throughout Victoria and vicinity are taking the opportunity of seeing, hearing and comparing the 1934-35 models of radios, which typify the sweeping advance in reception and performance. Radio Show Week is now on, sponsored by the different radio dealers in the city. Every radio store in Victoria has a special display, and the public is cordially invited to attend the showing.

The major feature of Radio Show Week is the sensational development of short wave reception. During the past few months short wave has leaped from the experimental stage, a fad to be played with by the amateur radio engineer, to a vital factor in up-to-date radio entertainment. To the accepted perfection achieved by reception of regular long wave stations is added the thrill of listening in on foreign countries, Europe, Australia and Japan, with police, airplane and amateur broadcasts thrown in as good measure.

"MAGIC CARPET"

The most genuine enthusiasm could hardly be predicted such a sudden widening in the scope of domestic reception. The presentation of this "Magic Carpet," which will carry one to far distant countries with a turn of the dial, is the outcome of untiring research by radio engineers and the expenditure of millions on the part of manufacturers.

While short wave is the word on the lips of all, the tremendous improvement in standard broadcast reception must not be overlooked. New designs, finer tone and greater selectivity mark the performance of the new models. Cabinet beauty is outstanding, the many models presented including modernistic and conservative designs, introduced in order that the radio may take its place as part of a decorative setting.

William Adored His Wife

And now he seemed happy and relieved Scripps' loneliness.

"But why should he be lonely?" Joan had asked. "Doesn't he live with you?"

Giles had been reticent. "Yes, but his history is tragic . . . and there's a loneliness which comes from—longing."

He had deliberately turned from the topic and had showed her the shoes on the shelves—seamen's boots and sailors' sneakers and women's down-at-the-heel Oxfords, and young girls' pumps, and the about slubby footwear of the children of Granthead. "There's a history in every pair, and some poetry, though Scripps says not. You should have seen your silver slippers shining among them."

"My silver slippers . . ." She had flashed at him a startled look, and after a moment she had said: "Threw them away?"

"Threw them away?" his voice had showed his astonishment.

"The red had come up in her cheeks. 'I shouldn't have told you that, should I? But I did throw them away. It was a grand gesture . . .'" Her eyes had a far-away look and there had been silence for a moment.

"Then she had said: 'You see, Drew and I had a misunderstanding about them—and I hated them. So the morning after you brought them I went out alone on the rocks and threw them as far as I could, and at first they floated

"In a way, perhaps. But in a way it may be my husband's affair."

It had been like a blow to hear her speak of William as her husband. Oh, the thing was unspeakable.

"BEHIND HIS BACK"

To have something done behind one's back connotes a sneaky performance in one's absence, or an act accomplished surreptitiously and without one's knowledge.

That this reprehensible practice is not a modern manifestation is indicated by the age of this expression, which has been in general use for at least 350 years.

We have it from the play "Campepe," by "Lilly," published in 1584. The phrase appears in Act IV, Scene 1.

Sandy—"If you had five shillings in your pocket, what would you do?"

Tammas—"I'd think that I had somebody else's brains on."

Two friends were discussing business affairs in the club smoking-room when one remarked to the other—"By the way, is it true d'Arcy Browne is a gentleman farmer now?"

"I'll say he is," replied the other. "Why he even has his scarecrows changed into evening dress at dusk."

RADIO SHOW OPENS HERE

Local Dealers Sponsor Week to Illustrate Rapid Strides in Reception

Radio fans throughout Victoria and vicinity are taking the opportunity of seeing, hearing and comparing the 1934-35 models of radios, which typify the sweeping advance in reception and performance. Radio Show Week is now on, sponsored by the different radio dealers in the city. Every radio store in Victoria has a special display, and the public is cordially invited to attend the showing.

The major feature of Radio Show Week is the sensational development of short wave reception. During the past few months short wave has leaped from the experimental stage, a fad to be played with by the amateur radio engineer, to a vital factor in up-to-date radio entertainment. To the accepted perfection achieved by reception of regular long wave stations is added the thrill of listening in on foreign countries, Europe, Australia and Japan, with police, airplane and amateur broadcasts thrown in as good measure.

"MAGIC CARPET"

The most genuine enthusiasm could hardly be predicted such a sudden widening in the scope of domestic reception. The presentation of this "Magic Carpet," which will carry one to far distant countries with a turn of the dial, is the outcome of untiring research by radio engineers and the expenditure of millions on the part of manufacturers.

While short wave is the word on the lips of all, the tremendous improvement in standard broadcast reception must not be overlooked. New designs, finer tone and greater selectivity mark the performance of the new models. Cabinet beauty is outstanding, the many models presented including modernistic and conservative designs, introduced in order that the radio may take its place as part of a decorative setting.

William Adored His Wife

And now he seemed happy and relieved Scripps' loneliness.

"But why should he be lonely?" Joan had asked. "Doesn't he live with you?"

Giles had been reticent. "Yes, but his history is tragic . . . and there's a loneliness which comes from—longing."

He had deliberately turned from the topic and had showed her the shoes on the shelves—seamen's boots and sailors' sneakers and women's down-at-the-heel Oxfords, and young girls' pumps, and the about slubby footwear of the children of Granthead. "There's a history in every pair, and some poetry, though Scripps says not. You should have seen your silver slippers shining among them."

UNDEFEATED RUGBY FIFTEENS TO MEET SATURDAY

Peden and Cohorts Riding Second in Toronto Bike Race

Local Pedal-Pusher, With Cozens and Polly Parrott, Ridden Out of First Place by French Red Devils in Canadian Event

TORONTO, Oct. 23 (CP).—After a night of sprints and jams, the French "red devils" battled their way to the fore in the six-day bike race, here, at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Behind the "red devils" came five three-man teams fighting for second place.

Ernest De Buhlere, of France, led his partners, Henri Lepape, of Montreal, and Jules Audy, another Montrealer, to the front at the 487-mile mark. They had collected 225 sprinting points.

TORCHY SECOND
Torchy Peden, red-headed Victoria pedaler, and his British Empire partners, Syd Cozens, of London, England, and Polly Parrott, fellow Victorian, were knocked out of the lead they had scored at 10:30 o'clock last night, before a record

COLLEGE TITLE WON BY MURRAY

McGill Student Shows Great Promise in Inter-Collegiate Tennis Tournament

MONTREAL, Oct. 21 (CP).—Regarded by many critics as the finest young international prospect Canada has, Robert Murray, McGill student, today held the individual tennis championship of the Canadian Inter-Collegiate Athletic Union, in addition to his Province of Quebec singles title.

Murray retained the championship for McGill, Saturday, in the finals of the three-day tournament, with a straight-set victory over George Leclerc, Ottawa student at University of Montreal, 6-2, 10-8, 6-3. Murray partnered "Rock" Robertson, of Vancouver, to capture the doubles honors for McGill, defeating Harris Crowson and Ken Black of University of Toronto, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

ST. LOUIS WILL HAVE TWO CLUBS

American Association and National Hockey League to Operate This Season

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 22 (AP).—Resumption of hockey "war" between the National League and the American Association appeared certain today, with announcement that both leagues would have teams in St. Louis this winter.

William F. Grant, president of the American Association, said at Chicago, today, that his league would operate here, with full territorial rights.

Arrangements have been completed for the removal of the Ottawa Club, of the National League, to St. Louis, and the management has leased the arena, big sports amphitheatre used last year by the American Association.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS
Last year's association team played to numerous crowds of 10,000 persons or more, and was a financial success. Frank G. Wainwright, owner of the association franchise, has leased the Winter garden, an arena with 5,000 seating capacity, for use this year.

Harry A. Frank, attorney for Grant, said he was considering an injunction against operators of the "Eagle," the new National League club, to restrain it from playing here. The action would be based, Frank said, on an agreement between President Frank Calder, of the National League, and Grant, guaranteeing the association the St. Louis territory.

B.C. WILLING TO ENTER PLAYDOWNS

Will Compete in Western Canada Rugby Series if Financial Arrangements Satisfactory

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—The British Columbia Rugby Football Union is prepared to enter a team in the inter-provincial Western Canada junior playdowns, provided satisfactory financial arrangements can be made. Dr. Walter Sturdy, president of the British Columbia Union, said tonight: "If a Coast team is entered, they will travel to the Prairies. Negotiations have been carried on with the Alberta Union with a view to arranging a British Columbia-Alberta play-off, but so far the Prairie body has not accepted the responsibility of guaranteeing the expense of a Coast squad."

Merion Jones, only undefeated team in the junior circuit, would be selected to make the trip if the negotiations are concluded. Dr. Sturdy stated.

THREE TIED IN TROPHY MATCH

Frank, were deadlocked in first place in the final of the Uplands Cup competition, played Sunday afternoon at the Uplands Golf Club. The play-off for possession of the handsome trophy is expected to take place during the week.

Checking in with a net score of 145, Jack Regan, capped the first night honors, finishing one stroke in front of A. E. Irish, who took second place. In third place, one stroke behind Irish, was Alan Riches, with a net of 147.

Harold Brynjolfsson turned in the best gross score with 155 for the thirty-six holes, the next best being Dr. Westwood, with 158.

New York Rangers And Maroons Will Train at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22 (CP).—While the pigskin is still in the ascendancy and the last remark from the dunker not yet uttered, hockey has come into an advance share of the sport limelight here.

Tommy Gorman's stalwart band of Montreal Maroons shook the knicks out of their legs, here, in the first work-out of the 1934-35 season. But this group did not get all the approving glances from sideline critics, for Lester Patrick's brigade from New York has also launched its pre-season bumping and bruise-rubbing pastime.

The two contingents will practice here for a week. Saturday they will begin a three-out-of-five exhibition series between themselves.

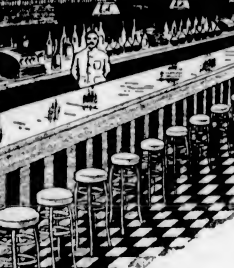

Patrick's Rangers are not yet clear of the annual hold-out parade, but practice goes ahead regardless of such formalities as the panned "John Henry." Gorman wears an "all one happy family" smile and says his fighting outfit will be "right in there." From the Rangers, big "Ching" Johnson and Earle Selbert have so far withheld signatures.

Black Helen Is Still Unbeaten

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP).—Continuing on in her unbeaten way, E. R. Bradley's Black Helen today won her sixth successive race, whipping five other two-year-olds in the Elliott Purse, at Laurel, Md., over six furlongs. She finished two lengths in advance of B. Long's Legume, in the time of 1:12.3. Another length back trailed H. R. Dicken's Boston Breeze.

Varsity Move Seen As Link With U.S.; Oust Alberta Plan

U.B.C. Refuse Sudden-Death Game to Decide Hardy Cup Football Event—May Play in American Coast Conference—Basketball Swings

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—In a move, believed to indicate an eventual complete severance from Western inter-collegiate athletic sports and a swing towards competition with United States colleges, the University of British Columbia, tonight, refused a challenge from University of Alberta to a sudden death game for the Hardy Trophy.

The cup, emblematic of Western Canada inter-collegiate football supremacy, which the Coast Varsity won from the Golden Bears of Alberta last year, will be returned to the Prairie team, now the only squad left in the once powerful Western Inter-Collegiate League.

SUDDEN DEATH GAME
Alberta suggested a sudden death game here with the British Columbia college gridder after the Alberta-Merionals series in the Far West inter-provincial playdowns.

The Coast Varsity grid team, already hooked up with a minor college league in Washington, refused the challenge because of the guarantee necessary to keep the Alberta team over an extra day and because the Coast team is preparing itself to step into a permanent berth in the Washington schedule.

At the same time, University of British Columbia basketball officials announced they were arranging for a barnstorming tour of major Washington college teams in December. Their schedule includes games with Bellingham Normal, College of Puget Sound, Washington State, Mount Vernon, Pacific Lutheran and Ellensburg.

Varsity basketball officials are also desirous of working into a Washington League.

Local Jockey Enjoying Visit With Parents

Jimmie Hunter, Victoria jockey, who has been enjoying considerable success in the Eastern States, is back in the city to enjoy a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunter.

At present, Hunter is associated with the George D. Widner stables. He is accompanied on his visit here by George Lamb, New York sportsman.

Will Inaugurate Inter-City High School Fixtures

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—Inter-city high school games will be inaugurated between Vancouver and Vancouver Island teams, the Vancouver English Rugby Union announced tonight.

Primarily for the purpose of fostering rugby and bringing up a new crop of stars to senior ranks in anticipation of the expected visit here in 1936 of the New Zealand All Blacks, the champions of the Vancouver High School Rugby League will play a series of games with Brentwood, Shawinigan Lake, and University School teams. Nanaimo will be included if a high school team is organized there.

It was announced that C. M. Ralston, at present on a trip around the world, will represent the Vancouver union, the British Columbia Rugby Union and possibly the Dominion body at the International Rugby Union conference at London, England, later this year.

Ralston will travel to New Zealand where he will negotiate with the New Zealand club for the 1936 tour.

Wallace-Townsend Championship Mix May Be Held Nov. 7

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—Matchmaker Jack Allen tonight announced November 7 as the tentative date for the Canadian welterweight championship boxing bout between Gordon Wallace, sensational young Vancouver fighter, and Billy Townsend, former titleholder, who started his fist career in Nanaimo. Allen said he would apply to the Vancouver Boxing Commission tomorrow for sanction to hold the title bout next month. It will be either twelve or fifteen rounds.

GUNNERS TO MEET NAVY IN CRUCIAL OVAL BALL MATCH

Macdonald Park Expected to Be Scene of Early-Season Classic Which Will Determine League Leadership—Rival Squads Will Be at Full Strength—Four Other Matches Carded

Army vs. Navy: That's the line-up for what promises to be the early season's Rugby classic when the Fifth Regiment and the Navy, undefeated fifteen, clash Saturday afternoon to decide which club shall have undisputed occupation of the premier berth in the Barnard Cup series. Macdonald Park, Victoria's latest contribution to its playing fields, is expected to be the scene of this fixture, easily the feature game on the oval ball programme. The kick-off will be at 3 o'clock, and C. E. Ley will handle the whistle.

In their initial patches of their 1934-35 campaign down championship way, the Gunners, white-washed Oak Bay Wanderers, 27-0, while the sailors handed the Canadian Scottish a 15-0 shellacking. Last week the militiamen made their victory more decisive, when they snowed Bob McInnes' J.B.A.A. aggregation under a 47-0 defeat. The Navy kept their winning streak intact by handing out a 30-5 lacing to Oak Bay Wanderers.

With considerable rain over the week-end, playing fields will be much softer than on the previous two weeks, and a lot of the earlier danger will have been eliminated. It is expected that officials of the Victoria Rugby Union, at their meeting this evening, will make plans for the use of Oak Bay Park on Saturday. Up to the present time the grounds have not been used for league fixtures as they have been hard and considered dangerous for play. There is a possibility of the Scottish-J.B.A.A. senior match and the Fifth Regiment-Wanderers intermediate game, being played at Oak Bay, on Saturday afternoon.

For the past two weeks the Victoria Rugby Union has been forced to stage a double-header at Work Point Barracks, but it is expected that with the grounds made softer by the rainfall, this move will not be necessary for this week.

It was the second decisive win for both Sooke squads over their West Road rivals, as they chalked up victories on October 13. Dancing and refreshments followed the games.

The bout was scheduled as for the dual crown, Corbett holds, but the champion failed to make the bantam limit, weighing in at 123 pounds, five pounds overweight. King weighed in at 117-2 pounds. The King's manager claimed the title, but the question will have to come before the Boxing Board of Control.

SASKATCHEWAN RETAINS CUP

Defeats University of Alberta Athletes in Annual Meet — New Marks Set

SASKATOON, Oct. 22 (CP).—University of Saskatchewan, tonight, retained the Cairn's Cup, emblematic of the Western Canada Inter-Collegiate Union supremacy, scoring 71 points to 68 rolled up by the University of Alberta Golden Bears. It was the nearest the Alberta team has come to winning in three years of dual meets.

Three new marks were set and two records equaled in Saturday's meeting here despite bad winds and poor running conditions. The powerful University of Manitoba co-ed team had little difficulty disposing of the defending Alberta champions to win the Rutherford Trophy. The Saskatchewan team pulled up in third place with only 17 points against 41 gained by Manitoba and 21 by Alberta.

SET NEW RECORD

Brook Wylie, of Saskatchewan, set a new pole vault record, clearing the bar at 11 feet 5 inches. The other marks fell in the women's division. Helen Rose, of Manitoba, raised the running broad jump record to 17 feet 5-8 inches and also won the high jump at 4 feet 10-3/4 inches, another new mark.

ASKED TO KEEP TO THE POINT

Minor Argument on Bench Adds to Length of Appeal Case

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—Interspersed with comments by members of the bench among themselves and to counsel, Stuart Henderson, senior defence counsel, continued his argument today in an appeal of three Canford Indian Reserve brothers, Richardson, Eneas and Alex George.

"Today was the eighth day of the appeal of the brothers who were convicted of murdering Dominion Indian Constable J. H. Gibson, May 23, at the reserve near Merritt. The hearing is expected to conclude tomorrow."

"Mr. Henderson, this has taken six days and I hope you will support your argument crisply and to the point," Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald said to the senior defence counsel when he rose to answer the contentions of Crown counsel.

CANNOT GO FASTER

"I can't go any faster than I am," replied the veteran Victoria lawyer, after explaining that he had many points to meet which had been raised in a three-day argument by Crown counsel. "I don't think you have been wasting time," interposed Mr. Justice Arts.

"Pardon me," replied Mr. Justice Martin. "For two days I didn't open my mouth. I did endeavor to try to prevent further interruptions."

INVOKES MAGNA CARTA

Mr. Henderson invoked the Magna Carta in support of his contention that Constable Gibson, who was slain with Provincial Constable Percy Carr in a fight with Indians, should have told Eneas George the cause of his arrest.

The defence contends that the Indians acted in self-defence when the officers attempted to arrest Eneas for the alleged stabbing of his wife, without telling the Indian why he was being arrested.

Family All Take Crack at Burglar

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 22 (AP).—The Morris Fogel home is about as safe for a prowler as a lion's den. There's Ann, fair and slender, who can tackle; her mother, who swings a tack hammer; her father, who wields a mallet; and David, their son, who's willing to pitch in, even if he happens to be in the tub when the occasion arises.

Most of the family was seated at dinner when, police said, Thomas Lewis, twenty-four, ran for the front door, laden with family possessions. The various members performed their above-named offices. And Lewis was taken to jail for treatment of superficial injuries.

Struck by Motor At Intersection

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—Knud Paulson is in hospital here tonight suffering from a fractured face and head and a bad gash on his head as the result of being knocked down by an automobile at the intersection of Lakewood Drive and Hastings Street.

Warner, Argos Wingman, in Action

Bert Warner, husky inside wing of the Argos, is giving a football player's version of the man on the flying trapeze. He has plenty of that grace and ease, but forgot to bring along his trapeze. Bert is an ex-Varsity player, and this is his first year in the Big Four. Coach Lew Hayman expects great things of him.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

SOMETIMES IT IS WELL THAT WE DON'T KNOW ALL THAT IS GOING ON IN OUR BODIES

About thirty years ago, it was thought that at least one-half the people who lived to reach adult age were, or had been, afflicted with tuberculosis somewhere in the body, yet the number who suffered and died with it was but a small fraction of that.

Today, it is believed that every one of us has tuberculosis or has had it, but that it has healed and we are free from the symptoms.

That is, it is only when it is in an "active" condition that we speak of an individual as having tuberculosis. As you know, tuberculosis can be in many parts of the body besides the lungs—bones, kidneys and other organs.

Dr. Edwin Liek tells us that "most adults in Germany whose bodies are examined after death show evidences of healed tuberculosis; that is, practically everybody has it at some time in their life."

Another interesting fact brought out at autopsies, as these examinations are called, is that every twelfth man and every fourth woman have gallstones, yet only about one in four of these individuals with gallstones ever complained of them. Just think that over only three in every twelve men with gallstones, and one in each four women with gallstones ever suffered enough to even consult a physician; the other nine men and three women did not know they had them or the symptoms were so slight that they didn't think it necessary to consult a doctor.

Now, anyone who has suffered with gallstones, or has seen someone else suffering with them knows that the pain and distress are severe.

You can see what a fortunate thing it is then that this large number of people who have gallstones do not know they have them. If they knew about them, many would naturally worry about them, and nothing interferes with the work of the liver, or other organs for that matter, like worry or other depressing emotional disturbances.

The fact that the gallstones are present and giving no trouble in the majority of cases shows how the body is able to adjust itself and do its work despite such conditions if the patient doesn't know about them.

However, Dr. F. D. LaRoche, Springfield, Mass., points out, "but if, by any chance, the patient's attention becomes focussed on one of these derangements, there is no end to the misery that can follow."

IMPROVED RADIO STATION ASKED

City Council Indorses Motion Seeking Better Broadcasting Conditions Here

On a motion, sponsored by Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter and Alderman T. W. Hawkins, the City Council decided, last night, to again communicate with the Canadian Radio Commission on the question of improved radio facilities for Victoria, and to appeal for early steps to be taken by the commission toward establishment of a radio station here that would afford "more satisfactory facilities than those existing at the present time."

Alderman Hunter informed the council that several applications for radio broadcasting licences had gone from this city to Ottawa, but that nothing had been done yet.

SINKING FUNDS ARE EXCHANGED

City Council Authorizes Consumption of Deal on Finance Committee Recommendation

One of the biggest exchanges of sinking fund investments to be consummated for some time by the city took place at last night's meeting of the Council.

There were two exchanges, although they were grouped in the same report from the finance committee. They were as follows:

Exchange $27,000, G.T.P., 3 per cent bonds, due 1962, owned by the city at 94.25 and accrued interest for $130,000; Dominion of Government 3.5 per cent bonds, due 1949 and accrued interest at 96.50.

Exchange $15,000, Province of Saskatchewan, 5 per cent bonds, due 1943 at 95.75, now held by the city, for $10,000; City of Victoria 5 per cent bonds, due 1954 at 88.44, and $7,000, City of Victoria 4.5 per cent bonds due 1944 at 88.85.

Purchase of $5,000 City of Victoria 5.5 per cent bonds, due 1936 at 96 and accrued interest also was authorized.

Security Prices Little Changed At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP).—Stocks idled through another slow session today, holding closely to the groove the market has occupied for more than a week.

Mixed changes at the close left the general position virtually unchanged.

Share volume totaled 574,000.

National Department Stores preferred rose more than 2 points.

Spiegel May Stern dropped more than 2 points.

American Can, Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Gas, General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, U.S. Steel, International Nickel and General Electric finished with negligible changes or none at all.

While United States Government securities were somewhat unsettled in today's bond market, other long categories displayed a fairly steady tone. The foreign list was dull.

A SAFE EXECUTOR FOR YOUR WILL

WILLS DO NOT IMPROVE with AGE

● HAVE you considered that the Will you made a few years ago may be now entirely out-of-date on account of changes in the value of your assets or changes in your family?

Conditions today, call for careful surveys in business and in private affairs. Why not include your Will in your survey? Does it provide for your dependents as it was intended to and as it would have done two or three years ago?

If it does not measure up to your family's needs, consult an officer of The Royal Trust Company. Years of experience in handling estates enable us to offer suggestions that may be of inestimable value to you. Although we do not draw Wills we shall be glad to consider your Will with you from the point of view of a practical administrator.

WHEAT UNABLE TO HOLD GAINS

Prices Advance Sharply in Early Trading but Recede Before Close

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22 (CP).—Unsettled by late weakness at Chicago, wheat futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange faltered after establishing sharp advances, followed by renewed foreign interest in Canadian wheat, values were only 3-8 of a cent higher to unchanged.

Soaring as the effect of the first export sales in days—700,000 bushels—futures held gains of as much as 13-4 cents under the final dealing.

But as heavy selling encouraged by Chicago declines ended the pit, the October option eased to 76 1/4, December, 76 3/4, and May, 81 1/8 cents.

Businessness of Liverpool prices, 11-40 up, failed to halt the swift recession. Cash grain closed fractionally better. Coarse grains futures receded from earlier advances.

Virginia Vane Says:

GIRL NOT IN LOVE WHO SACRIFICES BOY FRIEND'S PEACE OF MIND FOR GOOD TIME

Dear Virginia Vane: I have been going with one boy for a year now, and I am very much in love with him. His parents object to me, feeling that I am not true to their son; and though they are very wrong they probably have reason for so judging me. Here is the story.

A week ago I aroused my boy friend's jealousy through dancing several dances in succession with another boy. This boy was a very old friend of mine, and when I was told not to dance with him any more, I resented it and went out in the car to wait till it was over.

On his way home the other boy in the case found me. Unfortunately he reached over the car door and kissed me, and, as I have known him for a long time, I did not object, not thinking that any importance could be attached to this brotherly caress, for I assure you that that's all it was. My real boy friend came out and found me kissing another man. You can imagine the scene. His parents, of course, soon heard the story and refused me the hospitality of their home. I think my boy friend can find it in his heart to forgive me, but his parents will not permit it. Please tell me what to do, as I want to gain the trust of this boy's parents.—Anxious.

You have behaved like a very foolish young lady, but perhaps it is fortunate for all concerned that you have done so. Even though your boy friend seems inclined to forgive you in this business, it might be wise if you analyzed your feeling for him to determine whether or not you are really in love. Certainly from your actions of the night you mention, it would appear that your devotion isn't quite as strong as you think it. You were well aware that your boy friend was being hurt by your attentions to the other young man, and that you were causing him real unhappiness by your actions. But your good time was much more important to you than his peace of mind. Instead of talking the thing over with him when he asked you to stop your attentions to this Lothario, persuading him that his fears were absolutely groundless, you rushed off in a huff, but not so far, but that the villain in the case can't come along and find you sulking, nor were you so completely in despair, but that could permit him a little brotherly kiss. Now it's a very strange thing, but when people are in love they find it very difficult to kiss anyone but the person they are devoted to. Even a brotherly kiss with some eligible young man is quite an effort for the girl that has found her future mate. In this case it should have been particularly distasteful. Certainly your big brother couldn't have thought much of your engagement. He was putting something over on your boy friend and you should have instinctively rebelled against letting him get away with it. That it didn't occur to you to object makes me think that your feeling doesn't go deep enough to warrant your balking your married life on it.

If you still feel that you really love this boy, after having analyzed the affair carefully, then it is in line for you to go out and develop a little character so that the next time temptation, to let your boy friend down, arises you will meet it strongly, perhaps with a good healthy slap in the face. It is going to take an awful lot of sober living to ever convince this boy's parents of your aim and forced yourself to come up to their standards in every respect. A definite effort in this direction is sure to attract their notice and win their confidence.

CONCENTRATE ON THE NEW LOVE

My Dear Miss Vane: Three years ago the man I loved better than anything in the world died. It was very sudden and occurred just before our marriage. I went into a physical and mental decline and had to go away for six months to get over the terrible loss I felt. When I came back I tried to have a few "dates," but they all fell so short of the standards my fiancé had established for me that I could not stand it, and then for a long time I saw no one. One day my brother introduced me to a man, and after a few meetings, we became close friends. He seemed to understand the grief I felt, something no one else had seemed able to do, and I was grateful. I finally consented to marry him, but I am wondering if it is fair to him. I feel that I will never love anyone again, even though my affection for this man is very deep. I have explained this all to my husband-to-be, and he is willing to take a chance of winning me from my memories.—Remar.

You have indeed had a terrible shock, and I should say that even three years might be too short a time for you to get completely over it. However, though it may seem cruel to contemplate, it is very possible to get completely over your longing for your first love, and equally as possible for you to fall in love once more, just as perfectly as you did the first time. Out of joy to the first man you have been keeping his memory alive all these years, and have therefore made it very difficult for yourself to think of anyone else. You must then make a determined effort to avoid thinking about your lost friend, and concentrate on this new young man. He has shown that he is considerate of your happiness, and is doing everything in his power to understand you and make up to you the love you have lost. Don't you think it about time you made the arrangement a mutual one? His life you know is pretty important to him, and it wouldn't be out of order for you to start thinking how best you can help him. Especially if you have told him you would marry him, you must begin thinking about him rather than about yourself.

I know that as you find yourself interested in him for himself, and not as a prop for your aching heart you will find the old pain lessening. You are bound to recover your good spirits through the happiness you are sure to give him. As long as you look on this marriage as an escape from a grief that you feel it will never completely banish, it would be extremely unfair not only to your friend but to yourself as well to go through with it. Through taking an interest in your present suitor, you are sure to establish your own peace of mind, and once you have stopped thinking of yourself, you will discover that the feeling of gratitude you now hold for him is really love.

Waiting: I am truly sorry, but there is nothing you can do about this man's indifference. You must try and forget him. Get it out of your mind that he is the one man in your life, that you can't go on without him. That idea is ridiculous. Your going to have dozens of proposals from much more eligible men than this boy you have lost. You cannot make any further advances, as he could not help but resent your forwardness, and you would hurt your own self-respect. If he does call you again, you will be much better able to judge his real feelings for you, if you drop the matter as it now stands. If you were to call him up as you suggest, you would never know whether he came back to you because he felt sorry for you, or because he really cares for you.

Pat went to England to spend his holidays. Once settled in his lodgings he placed a full bottle of Scotch whisky in the cupboard. After a few days he discovered that the whisky was disappearing rapidly. Calling the landlady, he inquired about it, and she cried, indignantly: "Me take your whisky! Not likely. Remember, I come of good English parentage."

"Sure," said Pat. "I'm not being concerned about your English parentage, it's your Scotch extraction I'm telling you about."
